SALABERRY-DE-VALLEYFIELD, October 17, 2019 – Today, a groundbreaking ceremony was held to celebrate the official start of construction for OK Tire’s new 200,000 sq. ft. distribution centre in Valleyfield, Quebec. Attendees included Mayor of Salaberry-de-Valleyfield, Miguel Lemieux along with OK Tire corporate representatives.

The new distribution centre represents an investment of over 14 million dollars and is part of OK Tire’s $100 million investment plan over the next five years to expand its distribution centre capabilities across Canada. Construction will be carried out over several months and is slated to be completed next summer.

“We are thrilled to break ground on our new state-of-the-art distribution centre. The strategic location will offer us the capacity to better serve our constantly expanding network,” says Tony Beck, Vice-President of Logistics and Distribution at OK Tire Stores Inc. “We are excited to create jobs that will support the Valleyfield economy.”

The distribution centre expansion is the first major initiative of OK Tire's five-year growth plan and is the largest expansion in the company's 66-year history.
